

Giant Leap for RPGkind™

Erases the adjective “archaic”
from the professional profile of RPG programmers

This is a brand new product from Unbeaten Path

The product enables RPG programmers who don't know much (if anything) about .html, java, .net, PHP, and the rest of the object oriented programming world .... and .... who have a determined dis-interest in learning about that stuff ..... to generate fully-functional, web-accessible GUI screen displays.

It's not a screen scraper.

You don't need anything on board the PC client or sitting on the network to see the GUI displays.

The displays are driven right out of compiled RPG source.

It's amazing, really.

Our guys love it.

This information page is under construction as of the close of May 2011.
Stay tuned for more.

Call (888) 874-8008 for more information.
International: +262-681-3151

Unbeaten Path®